ASIAN HUMAN SERVICES
HEALTHY, EDUCATED AND EMPLOYED
At a time when social service agencies throughout Illinois have faced great uncertainty and even crisis, Asian Human Services has continued to thrive, and to be a safe haven for its clients. Many immigrants from Asia, the Middle East, Africa, Eastern Europe, Central and South America have turned to us in the last year as they seek healing from physical and mental illness, try to gain education and employment, and improve their families’ lives and their own.

When the news in Illinois seems to bring daily word of our neediest neighbors’ loss of vital services, we at AHS are proud that we offer steady, compassionate support to our clients. As we look to the year ahead, we expect that AHS will be an ever-stronger network of services, supporting our clients as they become healthy, educated and employed.

AHS IS MANY
It’s 30-plus languages that our staff members speak, and 50-plus countries our clients come from. AHS is more than 60 services we offer through our six programs. It’s 26,246 people served last year by more than 200 staff members. It’s 38 years of serving a remarkably diverse community of people from around the world.

AHS IS ONE
It’s one client needing to find a job and see a doctor. It’s one family just arrived in Chicago from a distant country, and finding friendliness and encouragement. AHS is one staff member devoted to improving the lives of Chicago’s immigrants and refugees, and one united staff working together. It’s the one belief that we are all fundamentally connected to each other.
At AHS we care for the whole person. Through our Family Health Center, Mental Health and Community Health programs, we serve everyone with healthcare needs, from infants to the elderly. We are concerned not only with physical but also emotional health; not only with treating illness but also preventing illness.
Education is a lifelong pursuit at Asian Human Services. Through Passages Charter School and the LEAF Program especially, we offer year-round educational services to infants, school-age children, and adult immigrants wishing to learn English. Our highly qualified staff prepares many clients for the next stage of life: kindergarten, high school, college and employment.
